Description

Meet ARCTIC — an 88-metre icon whose story is as extraordinary as the destinations she's built to reach. Born in 1969 as an ice-class salvage tug, she was reimagined by Australian billionaire Kerry Packer into the world's first true luxury expedition yacht. When she relaunched in 1994 as the largest converted explorer yacht of her era, ARCTIC didn't simply raise the bar for adventure cruising — she redefined it entirely.

Legendary Heritage, Reimagined Her transformation preserved the industrial-strength bones that made her legendary — an ice-class hull forged for the world's most unforgiving waters — while introducing sweeping living spaces, refined interiors, and impeccable finishes. The result is a vessel of rare duality: rugged enough to venture where others dare not go, yet elegant enough to make every moment on board feel effortlessly indulgent.

Unmatched Global Cruising Range With a proven track record across every ocean on earth, ARCTIC is designed for the truly unreachable. Her extraordinary long-range autonomy opens the door to once-in-a-lifetime journeys — from the frozen grandeur of Antarctica and the dramatic fjords of Norway, to the untouched wilderness of Papua New Guinea and the jewelled waters of the Pacific Islands.

Expansive Entertainment & Wellness Spaces ARCTIC's vast deck areas rank among the largest of any charter yacht afloat, offering multiple generous zones that can be tailored effortlessly for celebration, relaxation, or adventure. The heli-deck transforms at will — from an open-air dining terrace or sunrise yoga platform to a cocktail party venue or dance floor beneath a canopy of stars. Modular furnishings and sweeping proportions throughout ensure that every gathering, intimate or grand, finds its perfect setting. Below deck, guests are treated to a private 4D cinema, a dedicated massage and wellness suite, a fully equipped gym, a pool, a jacuzzi, and an array of indoor and outdoor lounges conceived for pure, unhurried comfort.
